Rec park tops council agenda

Elk Point Recreation Park was at the top of Town Council's agenda last Monday, with numerous details to be gone over prior to the Park's Official Opening this coming Saturday. Maintenance, user fee structure and additional developments were discussed at length.

Time is running out for use of the remaining amount of Municipal Recreation and Tourism Area funding allocated to the Elk Point Golf and Country Club. The funding must be used by June 1 in order for the Town to qualify for the MRTA operational grant for this year.

A pipe-and-chain fence around the gazebo, chain link fencing at the park entrance and other projects are underway as the final touches are added prior to the Grand Opening. Community Services Director Terri Ehlert said the Public Works staff is "doing a wonderful job. Things are really shaping up."

Maintenance for this and other parks under the Town's jurisdiction will be discussed by the Public Works Committee with a view to having specific maintenance items included in the new Recreation Master Plan which is currently being developed.

Fees for facility use at the Recreation Park will remain the same as last year. It was noted that Community Services will facilitate, but not organize, ball tournaments.

The Town has $2000 in donations from the Royal Canadian Legion set aside for players' shelters at the Recreation Park ball diamonds, and is looking for another $1000 in funding so that shelters can be put at all three diamonds.

The Town has been allotted two STEP positions totalling 29 person / weeks and one 7-week SEED position for their summer employees.

Rental of the former Pioneer Circle Hall was discussed, and a $50 fee set for all users.

A 20 foot pole light with two panels will be installed in the Mural Park in order to complete the CTAP grant requirements. With the addition of a sundial, the park will then be in readiness for its official opening and dedication July 1.

Five tenders for purchase of the former rescue van were opened, with Fire Chief Ken Palamarek and firefighter

After an absence of 14 years, Elk Point is once again having its very own rodeo! It promises to be a very exciting weekend with lots of fun and entertainment.

The Rodeo performances go both Saturday and Sunday at 1:00 p.m. in the outdoor Rodeo Ring with Bernie Poitras. Make sure you plan to come early and get a good seat! This rodeo is sanctioned by the Lakeland Rodeo Association with Les Trach as the stock contractor. Les will be bringing along the 1991 Stock of the Year: Bareback Horse - Hot Chocolate, Saddle Bronc - Grey Dawn, and Bull of the Year - Rampage.

The rodeo performances will have seven major events: Saddle Bronc, Bareback, Bull Riding, Steer Wrestling, Open Barrels, Team Roping and Calf Roping, plus two junior events of Barrels and Steer Riding. We have a lot of local entries and talent so come and watch your neighbor win his event!

One of Canada's top rodeo clowns, Ricky Ticky Wanchuk, will be performing at this year's rodeo to keep everyone laughing. Ricky will also be making a personal appearance at the Elementary School on Friday, May 8 to hand out free admission tickets to a rodeo performance to all Elementary students and to award the winners in the Rodeo Poster Contest with their prizes.

Saturday morning at 10:00 a.m. there is a Heavy Horse Pull with teams coming from all over northeast Alberta to participate. The "Refreshment Gardens" will be open both Saturday and Sunday at 2:00 p.m.

Saturday at 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. the Elk Point 4-H Beef Club is hosting a beef supper in the Agricultural Arena on the fairgrounds. It's reasonably priced and promises to be very tasty! Please come out and support our hardworking local 4-H Beef Club Saturday at their Rodeo Beef Supper.

After dining on that delicious supper, pull on your boots and come dance with us at an old time Rodeo Barn Dance with George Stratford Band Saturday night at 9:00 p.m.

After all that dancing Saturday night you will be ready for a hearty breakfast Sunday morning, with the UFA-sponsored Pancake Breakfast, which is free with gate admission. Sunday's rodeo performance is also the day slated for the "Wild Ride." This is a MUST SEE and will prove to be great entertainment.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

As planning and preparations continue for Canada Day, the Canada Day Committee needs some volunteer assistance to make the 125th anniversary of Canada even bigger, better and more unique this year.

A coordinator is needed for the Canada Day Variety Stage Show. A MC is already in place but someone is needed to coordinate the performances. Please call Joe Brunner (724-2067) or Community Services (724-3800) if you are able to volunteer for this position.

It's exciting to note that on Canada Day this year there will be a Food Fair! Chris Salmon is coordinating this event. Volunteers are needed on the Food Fair committee to help make this a huge success. To become part of this fun committee give Chris a call at 724-2543 or call Community Services at 724-3800.

The Food Fair is a great opportunity for clubs and organizations to do some fundraising. All proceeds from the sale of food will be kept by the participating organizations. The Food Fair will be on July 1 from approximately 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

THE CHALLENGE!

Get those ball gloves out and take part in the Challenge! Community Services is facilitating a FUN slowpitch tournament as part of the Canada Day celebrations. It will take place on Tuesday, June 30 prior to the beerfest and dance. Anyone from 4 years old to 104 can participate! It's an open event for mixed teams of all ages. There will be NO entry fee.

Businesses, families and organizations are encouraged to challenge each other. For example, students can challenge teachers, bank employees can challenge each other, businesses can challenge the competition and families can have fun challenging neighbors or cousins.

So think about who you'd like to challenge and give Community Services a call by May 30 to register your team.

JACK AND JILL PLAYSCHOOL

Community Services is now accepting registrations for the morning and afternoon sessions of Playschool. Children must be 3½ years old by September 1, 1992. Spots will be allocated on a first-come, first-serve basis. When all spaces are filled, children will be put on a waiting list. Call 724-3800 for more information.

VOLUNTEER WEEK

Special thanks should be issued to the Wild Rose Foundation for providing the contract funds as well as to the various volunteers who were of assistance in the Volunteer Week endeavors.

Once again, a general thank you is being sent out to all of the volunteers in our community and if you were able to attend, hopefully you enjoyed the opportunity to relax at the Volunteer Variety Social held on Friday, May 1.

And, for all recipients of volunteer work, please remember that you need not wait for a declared week to show appreciation toward your volunteer.

SOCCER ANYONE?

If you are interested in seeing a youth soccer program offered in Elk Point, call Darlene Kozicky at 724-2080 or Community Services at 724-3800. If enough interest is expressed, a general meeting will be held at a later date. So if you want to play soccer, coach or help out in other ways - give us a call!

Elk Point recreation

SUMMER PROGRAM

Provincial and federal employment funding programs have been cut, allowing for approval of only one summer youth coordinator. This will mean changes to the Club 3 / 4 and Fun In The Sun Programs (due to lack of employees and limited hours / weeks of funding). Due to the heavy workload and time constraints, parental involvement and volunteerism will be heavily relied upon to get these programs off the ground. Otherwise, registrations may need to be limited.

MASTER PLAN

Community Services will be hosting a meeting on "Enhancing Cooperation In Developing and Delivering Community Services In Our Community." The meeting is part of the Master Plan process and will be facilitated by Alberta Tourism, Parks and Recreation, FCSS and Community Services.

Community participation and input is an integral component to the development of Community Services. Future projects will be determined as a result of this meeting.

Letters of invitation have been sent to community organizations, requesting representation at this meeting. If an organization did not receive an invitation, or if you are personally interested in attending, please contact Community Services so that you can be included.

The Master Plan meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, May 13 at 6:30 p.m. in the Community Services Centre. Call 724-3800 for more information.

This annual event is co-sponsored by the Canadian Hospital Association and the Canadian Public Health Association. Canada Health Day is celebrated each year to commemorate Florence Nightingale's Birthday.

This year's theme, "Your Health; Your Health Care System - Protect Both" was chosen in recognition of the significant role our health services provide our community. In Our View

The hazards of aging

I refer to the hazards of aging as I see them, rather than the commonly accepted, standardized hazards as promoted by professional care-takers, trained persons and government experts. My awareness comes from trying to survive them.

So what's hazardous about growing older? We all do it, from the newest born to the longest lived. Even those five tiny quintuplets are experiencing the process of aging, as they struggle for their first week of life.

But having attended that seminar on aging, over in the Vermilion Seniors' Centre last week, where an entire day was given to a study of seniors and how well they are able to cope with life after reaching an age eligible for pensions, it seems many are quite concerned.

First off, the meeting was opened by Mayor Hughes of Vermilion, himself a senior and president of their Centre. Then the Honorable Mr. Roy Brassard, Minister Responsible for Seniors of Alberta, took the mike, and covered a number of facts and concerns deemed to apply to seniors in Alberta today.

He listed the growth of the Senior population (which I took to mean 'over 65') as expected to grow by 49 percent over the next -- years (maybe 20?) (Some of us old geezers don't hear very well.) We, who refuse to die young, will be called members of the "seniors boom," as opposed to the "baby boom" following the last BIG war.

Age 65 seems to be the cut-off time; if we are too stubborn to die, we must be taken care of via the Old Age Pension route. Even the odd few who refuse to seriously 'retire' are eligible for pensions, whether they need them or not. It sort of irks me to think that a millionaire is eligible for the same pension as the poorest of the poor.

We were reminded that we are subject to elder abuse, and should be ready to defend ourselves if this occurs. The average senior, we were told, spends the first 27 years being a child and going to school, 28 years working at his / her career, and who knows how many years as a retiree, a pensioner on the fat of the land. This presupposes retirement at the age of 55. I wonder how many make it, to retire at that age?

The Minister asked us to consider conditions twenty years from now, the seniors' homes, housing, transportation, medical care and so forth, of the future.

We are an expensive lot, with the government of Alberta shelling out $5500 per senior per year, (in 1991). That's not counting federal pensions or other benefits. And there's around 100,000 of us.

No wonder some thinking must take place, with seniors talking, trying to help solve this financial riddle.

So the Minister has supplied four group leaders, and they divide the 90-plus of us into four groups. We are to discuss the needs and concerns of seniors, and try to supply some answers. What do we want; what must we have; what can we survive without?

The leader of the group I landed in was Carol Blair, from Lloydminster, a good speaker, and fast printer, as she summarized our comments and wrote them onto large sheets of paper, posted up, so we could refer to them as we went along.

Alberta Trails

By Irene Magnusson

From a listing of our greatest concerns, as seniors, she chose the three most prominent, being Income, Health Care and Housing. We were not all seniors in the group of 22, some were social workers, much younger. I noticed, when each was asked to give their name and tell something of themselves, that the younger ones gave their job descriptions, the older ones mentioned more personal details, mostly just admitting their elderliness.

Under Income, (financial needs of seniors) the thoughts seemed to be that government pensions could soon be a thing of the past, and that we need to make more provision for our own aging years, via company pensions, RRSPs, RIFs, etc., so as to avoid a "chicken today, feathers tomorrow" diet.

Under Health Care, we agreed we should be more 'prevention' oriented, to eat, act and live as healthfully as possible. A small universal user fee could help with costs, and discourage 'over-use' of health care. A bi-annual cost statement would allow users to know what their health care really costs. This might encourage greater safety measures, too.

To stay in their own homes, with what help required, for as long as possible, was the consensus of most; then access to lodges, nursing homes, as needed, with some 'halfway' housing, for those on waiting lists, but unable to manage alone.

Some of the conclusions were, that people take responsibility for themselves, by planning ahead, as possible; that transportation is needed after driving ability is lost; that we could all benefit from a 'buddy' system, where we help each other; that we need less government intervention, rather than more; pension plans should start when young; a need for "right to choose" plans and "living wills" - how to implement?

Many other items received consideration; no hard and fast recipes for solving problems were reached. The plan is for compiling the information and suggestions received, and a thorough review of same, following the many more meetings to come. Surely seniors are being given a chance to 'have a say' in their own future. Surely, also, all problems faced are not relevant to every person.

We seniors here are very well cared for, as far as government goodies were concerned; that we be asked to 'share the wealth' with other segments of our society, in these times of recession is not unreasonable. I hope we are civilized enough to rise to the occasion without too much complaining, and some memory of the last Depression we survived, when we learned to "fix it up, wear it out, make it do or do without."

The importance of education

A guest editorial for Education Week.

I know someone who just recently dropped out of school. As far as I know, he's still looking for a job. He lives with his parents and isn't gaining anything.

Dropping out of school is not a wise decision in any case. For most jobs you not only need a high school diploma but also a university or college degree. If a person is lucky enough to find a job, it probably pays minimum wage and really, it limits your abilities to better yourself, your position and your options.

Staying in school may not be easy and I don't think anyone can say they 'thoroughly' enjoy it. But at least you gain something, you gain knowledge. Something you can use to better yourself. Something that will open doors for you when you have nothing else to rely on.

Education is the most important factor in a person's life. Sometimes the law isn't enough to stop people from dropping out. After the age of sixteen, people may drop out legally. But some of the most important lessons are learned in Senior High School.

If you're in school, stay there!

If you're not, you're missing out.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

A.G. Ross Arena; Tuesday, June 2, 1992; 7:30 p.m.

Events of Grade 2B

In our classroom, we have learning partners. Learning partners are fun because they help each other. We just picked new partners.

Every week we write in our Journals. They are personal because you write how you feel.

In our Neighborhood Social Studies we read stories and visited with handicapped people. We learned that we need to talk to handicapped people so we can understand them better.

In our classroom we are friendly to the earth by not using throw-away cups and plates at parties. We recycle and reuse paper.

Everyone likes "Star of the Week." All week one person is special and shares with the class. Each person writes a letter to the Star. All the letters are made into a Class Book. We have 16 books finished for our Mini Library. Only 7 more Stars left!

Almost every month we have one "All Star Week." Every person gets a day to share with the class.

We just finished our Really Big Theme. We learned that elephants' tusks are really big incisor teeth. They are great swimmers because they use their trunks like snorkels.

Pig answers

1. Roadhog. 2. Pig Latin. 3. Hog wild. 4. Pigs in blankets. 5. In a pig's eye. 6. Pig in a poke. 7. Pigtales. 8. Real porker. 9. Pigheaded. 10. Bring home the bacon. 11. Pigsty. 12. Pig out.

Agriculture

in the classroom

Carrie Baumgardner

Grade 6B

There is a program the Department of Education and the Department of Agriculture have worked on together.

A teacher can get lots of ideas and materials from them if they want to tell their class about agriculture. The program teaches many different things about farming.

The first is about how important farming is to our way of life. Another thing you learn is how food is produced, processed and marketed. The student also learns about new methods of farming and how it is like a business. They also learn about the importance of air, fresh water and soil. There are many kinds of farms you learn about too. You learn how urban and rural communities interact. I think this is an interesting and helpful program for a school.

Hello from 3A

Hello from the students of 3A. What do we do in 3A that is different from what is done in other rooms? We will write about some of the things we talked about.

We made paper mache puppets in art. We had to sew the costumes ourselves. Some had yarn for hair, some had hats, some wore aprons. We then did a puppet play from the book Stone Soup. We invited the other Grade 3 class to watch our play.

There are some stories in our reader about the North. Ted Harrison, one of the authors, was a teacher at Carcross, Yukon. Mr. Wruth taught at the same school. He brought slides to school. There were pictures of an old paddlewheeler, the SS Tutshi, mountains, sunrises and sunsets. There was another picture of the many road signs at Watson Lake on the Alaska Highway.

Another day we saw slides from Resolute Bay, NWT. When Mr. Wruth taught there he took pictures of the seal hunt, a polar bear, a bombardier and the houses in the village. His house was covered with snow and he cut steps in the snow to get out. Alex, his neighbor, had nice dogs. We saw carvings from Resolute Bay that were made out of soapstone. There were bears and walrus. One of the boys who carved was only eight years old. We learned how Inuit people make prints.

We had a lot of clippings from the newspaper on our bulletin board about the first Canadian woman in space, Roberta Bondar.

Cat on the Window

Grade 3B

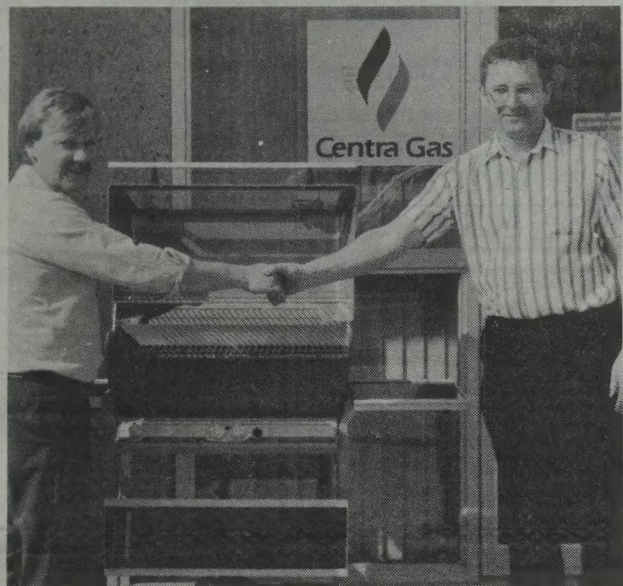

On a bright, cold winter day
We were visited by a feline friend,
Who wanted to play;
The teacher was telling us
To keep our desks clean,
When this cat jumped up
And put its claws through the screen.
The girls in front were shocked, then shrieked,
"There's a cat on the window!"
As suddenly we all heard it squeak.
Soon everyone had gathered around,
To see what was making this incredible sound.
We pushed and prodded and tickled its feet,
Finally our feline friend left with one giant leap.

Is Queen Victoria in?

Rev. Sam Donaldson
Elk Point United Church

There is a story told about a little girl who visited Osborne House on the Isle of Wight off the south coast of England. This great home was built by Queen Victoria and she spent a lot of time there. Now, this little girl was with a group of tourists, and as they were being shown around by the guide, the little girl wandered off, unnoticed. She had one desire in her heart and one object on her mind. She wanted to see the Queen.

Now, as often happens, a child can get places that it would be impossible for an adult to reach. Somehow unnoticed by the guards, the child found her way into the royal living quarters. Pushing open a door she stepped into a spacious and well furnished room. There sat a small elderly lady with grey hair.

As the child spotted this lady, she asked, "Is the Queen in?" The lady replied to the question, "Yes, she is, and she is about to have tea with a special guest."

That little lady with the grey hair was the Queen. The special guest that had tea that day was the little girl.

Now few, if any, of us have had tea with the Queen. But on Sunday, May 10 there will be dozens of queens having tea in Elk Point. Why don't you have tea with one of these queens? I am speaking about our mothers. How about giving her a surprise visit? Push open the door and ask "Is the Queen at home?" I bet she will ask you to stay for tea. "Her children arise and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praises her." Pro. 31:28.

Beavers swim up to cubs

Seven members of Elk Point's Beaver Colony swam up to become Wolf Cubs last week, with proud parents on hand to replace Beaver neckerchiefs with white scarves which the new Cubs must wear until they become full fledged members of the pack.

Brett Flanders, Devon Veenstra, Mathew Zarowny, Evan Way, Matt Huffman, Chad Keichinger, Garrett Poulin and Mevin Easthope were warmly welcomed by the Cubs. One Cub also moved up, with Aaron Young going on to Boy Scouts.

Two new leaders were invested, with Glenn Flanders becoming a Cub leader and Tim Zarowny becoming a Scouter.

Scouts, Cubs and Beavers were all thrilled with the new sign for their Scout Hill recreation and camping area, which was kindly donated by Hans Rohner of Graphica.

Tad Reed in attendance. The successful tender was submitted by Glenn Tkachuk of Edmonton, in the amount of $2800, which will go to the Fire Department toward equipping the new rescue van.

Councillor Allan Frankiw, Acting Administrator Jenny Scott and Public Works Superintendent Ron Fraess met with their County of St. Paul counterparts April 21 and brought back a proposal regarding the landfill. Town Council agreed to cooperate with the County on the idea, which includes manning the landfill for two days per week, closed the rest of the week, with the Town to fund this position and the County to provide a building, sanitary facility, gate and fencing around the pit. A road may be built down into the pit to help reduce the amount of debris which is blown around by the wind.

The Town has provided Bicentennial crests to a pee-wee hockey team from Frog Lake which is going to a tournament in Saskatoon.

Swimming Up

Beavers swimming up to Cubs were dressed with new white scarves for their journey, with proud parents doing the honors.

Volunteers are royally entertained

A large contingent of Elk Point's countless volunteers were given a chance to sit back, take it easy and enjoy an evening of entertainment last Friday evening, as Volunteer Week drew to a close.

Volunteer Week Coordinator Tracy Kjenner introduced Mistress of Ceremonies Sharil Baumgardner, who is a wholehearted advocate of volunteerism, and who has been involved in many capacities with community groups over the years.

The first group of entertainers were from Elk Point's excellent Ukrainian Dance Club, who gave us a taste of the colorful excitement we have in store this coming Saturday at their concert. Tiny solo dancer Jasmine Brown was followed by a duet by Taralee and James Babenek, and then by a trio of sisters Dorothea, Monica and Claudia Naber.

Elk Point and District Choral Society was next, with four most enjoyable numbers from the group's ever increasing repertoire, ranging from "Jacob's Ladder" to "Take Me Out To The Ball Game." The community will soon have a chance to enjoy the Society's talents at their Spring Concert on May 27.

Seven members of the Japan Karate-Do Federation, with their instructors Calvin and Debbie Leckie, were next on stage, with a comprehensive demonstration of the basic movements of this ambitious sport, and how they are put together to provide an effective means of self defense.

Local students of Alcadary Productions wowed the audience with their ballet, jazz and tap routines. Kali Cousins, Michelle Leckie, Romy Rohner and Melanie Johnson wore sparkly blue tutus and star headdresses for their number from Alcadary's recent presentation of "Peter Pan." Kali was back later with a solo number, which showed much effort has been put into her five years of lessons. Tom Rae and Dorothea Naber showed dual talents, first with a very athletic jazz dance, and then with a lively tap dance.

Seven year old Monica Naber has been playing the piano for three years, and it showed in her three numbers, "My Bonnie," "Brahm's Lullaby" and "Turkey In The Straw."

F.G. Miller High School's Grade 7 Band then took the spotlight, with three of the numbers they have worked hard to learn this past year.

The final guests were Doreen Mayner and Diane Fraess from Elk Point Public Library, who didn't put one single member of the audience to sleep with their "bedtime story" about two trees, "The Big Tree and The Little Tree," who cooperated for the betterment of both.

Sharil Baumgardner ended the evening with a poem, "There's A Place In Heaven For Volunteers," and quipped that the donor of the poem, Sid Holthe, would no doubt find work up there too, organizing all those who would wait on the volunteers.

Door prize draws were made throughout the evening, with the winners including draw and Gaby Bayduza winning the grand prize of a weekend at the Vitalize '92 Conference in early June.

Lesia Porcina, Dorothea Naber, Debbie Leckie, Ron Peterson, Jim Povaschuk and Adam Kleeberger, with Brandy Lynn Harper winning the Japan Karate Federation

Tracy Kjenner extended thanks to all who helped with Volunteer Week events, as well as to all the year-long volunteers in the audience. The evening concluded with refreshments and time for good conversation.
